Here for you

Find support and speak to people who understand

The Yorkshire Cancer Patient Forum is a group of people who have been directly affected by cancer and those working with or within cancer services

Our aim is to enable the views and experiences of cancer patients, families and friends to be heard and used to improve the quality of cancer care in the Yorkshire and Humber area. We do this by working in a positive partnership with local health care teams and other voluntary organisations

- Organised by you
  Organised by cancer patients, run by friends. Meet people who understand
- Support
  Supporting and uniting people and groups affected by cancer
- Be heard
  Providing a friendly environment for anyone affected by cancer to be heard
- Information
  Providing information on treatment and care for all cancers

The Yorkshire Cancer Patient Forum was run by volunteers until March 2017. After funding was agreed by Macmillan Cancer Support, an Engagement and Communications Officer was appointed to support the Forum, based at Healthwatch Wakefield, but covering all of Yorkshire and the Humber.

Macmillan Cancer Support

You may have cancer, but you are still you. Macmillan is here to help you get on with your life no matter what. We can give you the practical, emotional, and personal support you need to hold on to who you are and what's important to you.

From the moment you're diagnosed, for as long as you need us, you can lean on Macmillan. Call us free on 0808 808 00 00 or visit macmillan.org.uk

Life with cancer is still life – we'll help you live it.

Healthwatch Wakefield

Is a registered charity and company. It is an independent champion for people who use health and social care services. We exist to make sure that local people are at the heart of local care. We listen to what people like about services and what could be improved. We share their views with those with the power to make change happen. Healthwatch Wakefield's sole purpose is to help make health and care better for local people.
